

Physicians Postgraduate Press Earns Full 4-Year CME Accreditation

Physicians Postgraduate Press is pleased to announce that it has earned accreditation for its CME program for another 4 years. This reaccreditation represents an important milestone in the development of our CME Department and means that we can continue to provide meaningful CME opportunities to both the readers of our enduring materials and the participants in our live activities.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank those who have served as faculty for our CME activities and who have helped to create the information. We also wish to express our gratitude to our External CME Advisory Board for their insights and continued support in the development, execution, and evaluation of our activities. However, our greatest debt of gratitude is to the outstanding Physicians Postgraduate Press CME Department and staff of editors who, together, have the expertise and knowledge required to plan and execute meaningful activities.
